Canadian Maritimes and Newfoundland

August 24 - September 2, 2026
Aboard National Geographic Explorer

SPECIAL AFFINITY GROUP SAVINGS OFFER

Dear National Trust Traveler,

In Canada's easternmost provinces, where the Atlantic shapes both life and land, the Maritimes and Newfoundland reveal a world defined by seafaring traditions and rich storytelling. Rugged, windswept and steeped in centuries of lore, these provinces offer a rare blend of wild nature and living history. To sail their coastlines is to follow in the wake of Vikings, whalers and generations of mariners who have called this place home.

Aboard National Geographic Explorer, we invite you to experience the Canadian Maritimes, plus a full circumnavigation of Newfoundland—an extraordinary voyage that carries you deep into the past and present of this storied land.

The region is alive with history, from the Indigenous peoples who first inhabited these shores to the Europeans who arrived in search of fish and fortune. In St-Pierre and Miquelon—France's last foothold in North America—trace the cod trade that sparked wars and built empires, and in Îles de la Madeleine, a remote archipelago of red cliffs and windswept beaches, feel the Atlantic in its wildest form.

Every day offers new opportunities for immersive exploration. Join our experts for guided hikes across rugged coastal trails, or walk through quiet villages where Newfoundlanders welcome us with their world-famous warmth and hospitality. Throughout, our team of naturalists, cultural specialists and a National Geographic-Lindblad Expeditions certified photo instructor will deepen your understanding and connection to this extraordinary place.

To extend your experience, consider a stay at the celebrated Fogo Island Inn, where community hosts guide you through the island's timeless traditions, from fishing and storytelling to boatbuilding and foraging along berry-filled footpaths.

This is travel that weaves together land and people, past and present—and reveals a corner of North America that still feels undiscovered. To reserve your place, please return the reservation form or call or email our group representative at Lindblad Expeditions at 833-985-1261 or groups@expeditions.com.

Sincerely,

Meg Annacone-Poretz, MTA

DISCOVER CANADA'S MARITIME LEGACY

Rich Traditions at the Edge of the Atlantic

Sail a storied route through the Canadian Maritimes and around Newfoundland, where centuries-old history, untamed landscapes and enduring coastal traditions come together in a voyage of discovery.

Encounter a rich human story along these remote shores: call at L'Anse aux Meadows, the only known Viking site in North America; walk the cobbled streets of St-Pierre, where the region's French heritage still thrives; and explore the legacy of innovation in Baddeck, summer home of Alexander Graham Bell.

Natural beauty abounds, from the wind- and wave-carved cliffs of Îles de la Madeleine to the raw geological drama of Gros Morne National Park. We'll explore these wonders actively, on a variety of walks and hikes. And in between the wild landscapes and welcoming harbors, you'll taste the richness of your destination in every bite, whether it's freshly picked berries or mussels just hauled in from the surrounding seas.

Traveling aboard a nimble expedition ship, access wild shores and timeless coastal communities that feel worlds away—and gain a rare perspective on a place where nature and culture are beautifully intertwined.

A Remote Retreat Like No Other

Dramatically perched atop a rocky coast along one of Newfoundland's most remote outposts, Fogo Island Inn is a world-renowned retreat that blends contemporary design with deep-rooted traditions. Opt to extend your adventure with a stay at this remarkable property, celebrated for its striking architecture, community-driven ethos and profound connection to land and sea.
