- Ship-to-shore communication
- Casino gaming

DESTINATION SERVICES

Guests may learn more about the shore excursions available by visiting the Destination Services desk on Deck 5, attending the destination lectures on board, watching the Destination Information Channel on the in-room television, or by reading Currents, the ship's daily newsletter.

Shore excursion reservation forms and the most up-to-date descriptions are available in the staterooms and at the Destination Services desk. To reserve excursions, guests must fill out the form and return it to the Destination Services desk. All excursions must be reserved in advance; the deadlines for each tour or port of call are listed on the form. All excursions purchased will be charged to the guests' onboard account.

DISEMBARKATION

Disembarkation will begin soon after arrival in the final port of call. Times may vary but are generally no later than 9:00AM. One or two days prior to the end of the cruise, guests will receive detailed information regarding disembarkation procedures. This is also shown on the in-house TV channel by Destination Services. Guests can obtain their return airline boarding pass at the self-service machines at the airport or from the airline agent. Online printing of boarding passes is only available in the onboard Internet Center with applicable fees for internet usage.

DRESS ONBOARD

For comfort and convenience, the onboard ambiance is elegant yet casual. Country club and resort-style attire is appropriate for both men and women. In all evening dining venues, it is requested that guests adhere to the appropriate country club-casual dress code. There are no formal nights; tuxedos and gowns are never required. Shorts, jeans, t-shirts, athletic footwear, and flip flops are not permitted in the Grand Dining Room, Polo Grill, or Toscana. As the Terrace Café exudes a resort-casual ambiance, dressy shorts and casual t-shirts may be worn in the evenings. Tank tops and swimsuits are not appropriate attire for any of the onboard restaurants at any time.

Attire ashore is recommended to be casual and comfortable, with an emphasis on appropriate footwear, including good walking shoes. Some tourist sites may require specific attire in respect to local customs. Please consult the Destination Services desk for more information.

DRY CLEANING, LAUNDRY & PRESSING SERVICES

Dry cleaning and laundry services are offered onboard. There are also fully equipped self-service launderettes, with ironing boards and irons. There is no fee to use the self-service launderette.

DUTY-FREE ALLOWANCE

Each U.S. citizen returning to the United States is allowed $800 worth of retail purchases duty-free, including one liter of liquor for each guest over 21 years of age, as long as they have not used this exemption within the preceding 30-day period. On all other foreign-made articles over this $800 exemption, guests will pay duty according to the U.S. customs classification of the merchandise. To learn more, visit www.cbp.gov/xp/cgov/travel.

ELEVATORS

Four elevators provide convenient access to all public decks, except Deck 11 (the Sun Deck). Two elevators are located forward and two are located aft. The Sun Deck is accessed by stairs located at the forward end of the Fitness Track.

EMBARKATION

The official embarkation time is 1:00PM. Guests may have lunch until 4:00PM at the Terrace Café. Upon arrival at the pier, an Oceania Cruises staff member collects passports at the check-in facility and issues each guest an Oceania WorldCard. This card serves as the stateroom key, onboard charge card, and ID required to embark and disembark the ship. After check-in, guests will proceed directly to the ship's gangway where they are required to show the security officer the Oceania WorldCard. Luggage is delivered directly to their stateroom at least one hour prior to departure. Luggage is screened by security first and this may require some time. Therefore, it is advisable for the guests to keep any medications or other personal items they may need during the day in their carry-on bags.

GO NEXT HOSPITALITY DESK

The Go Next Hospitality desk is located on Deck 4. Hours of operation are posted at the desk.

GOING ASHORE

When the ship arrives in a port of call, guests are requested to wait in public areas or in their staterooms until an announcement is made with instructions for safe disembarkation. In certain ports, guests will be brought ashore in tender boats. Return to the ship is at least 30 minutes prior to sailing. If guests return late and miss the ship, they are solely responsible for rejoining the ship and all associated costs. Therefore, it is recommended to take a copy of the Currents newsletter ashore, as it contains emergency contact information.

In most ports, a local agent or tourist board provides an information service desk for the independent passengers. The desk is usually located in the reception area on Deck 4 or in port facilities ashore, and it is generally open from the time the ship has been cleared by the port authorities until lunchtime. Desk staff provides local maps, current timetables for local transportation, and general information for sightseeing, dining, shopping, and other local activities.

GRATUITIES

A suggested gratuity in recognition of an outstanding personal service of $16.00 per guest, per day, is automatically added to guests' shipboard accounts for the steward/stewardess and all restaurant staff. Guests occupying a Penthouse Suite, Vista Suite, or Owner's Suite will have an additional $7.00 gratuity per guest, per day, added in recognition of outstanding butler service. The guest may adjust gratuities while on board at their sole discretion. An 18% gratuity is automatically added to all beverage purchases as well as spa and salon services.

Suggested gratuity amounts are $1.00 USD for drivers and $2.50 USD for local city guides per guest for half-day excursions, and $2.00 USD for drivers and $4.00 USD for local city guides per guest for full-day excursions.

LUGGAGE

Most airlines are now charging fees for checked luggage. These charges are in addition to weight restriction fees. Policies vary from airline to airline; guests should check with their specific airline(s) for current luggage policies.

For guests flying out of the United States, any liquids or gels larger than 3 ounces must be in checked luggage. Please visit the Transportation Security Administration website at www.tsa.gov/ guests to review the latest restrictions for luggage and regulations regarding liquids and gels.

MAIL

Letters and postcards with appropriate postage can be dropped at Reception desk on Deck 4. Postage for mail may be purchased from Reception for a nominal fee. Mail is collected from the vessel one hour prior to sailing from each port of call. Guests wishing to ship packages from the vessel may consult the concierge for further details. Incoming mail and faxes received by the ship on guests' behalf are delivered directly to their staterooms.

MEDICAL SERVICES

The ship's international medical personnel are available for consultation during daily posted office hours. Emergency service is also available. All medical services are subject to customary charges. Please note that the cost for medical coverage on board is very high. Medical fees will need to be paid onboard and will be reimbursed from any insurance guests may have purchased.

Guests with any medical condition(s) or special needs that may require treatment, attention, or accommodation during the voyage, or guests who need to travel with a medical apparatus (wheelchairs, motorized scooters, oxygen therapy, etc.) must advise Go Next at time of deposit. Please note some ports of call may not be suitable for guests with limited mobility and, in such cases, may disallow debarkation with a wheelchair or motorized scooter or for any individual with limited mobility.

Should one experience motion sickness, check with Reception or Medical Services for over-the-counter medication that may be used. Guests should check with their local physician for preventative measures that can be taken prior to sailing, if needed.

MONEY MATTERS

For convenience, Oceania Cruises offers a cashless system on board. All onboard purchases and services, other than the casino, are billed to the guest's onboard account upon presentation of the Oceania WorldCard whenever purchases are made. To activate the shipboard account, guests are required to register a credit card. This may be done at embarkation or at the ship's Reception desk. Oceania Cruises accepts American Express, MasterCard, and Visa. Personal checks are not accepted. If guests wish to settle accounts with cash, they will be asked to make a cash deposit at the Reception desk. The U.S. dollar is the standard currency for all transactions on board. In order to obtain the best exchange rate, it is suggested that guests take advantage of the ATMs located in the many ports of call. Cash advances are also available at the Reception desk. A daily limit of $500 per registered credit card can be billed to the stateroom account. A 5% transaction fee is applied by Oceania Cruises.

If guests plan to use ATM funds, it is important that they contact their bank or credit card company to verify that PINs are active and to inform them that they will be using those cards during international travel. This prevents cards from being denied while abroad.

OCEANIA CURRENTS

The onboard newsletter, Currents, is published daily. Delivered directly to staterooms each evening, it includes the agenda of scheduled activities, services, entertainment, and shore excursions for the next day. Port information, office and dining hours, and other vital facts are also included in this publication, as are address and telephone contact of the local port agents; therefore, it is recommended to carry the newsletter at all times, even when going ashore.

OCEANIA WORLDCARD

Upon arrival at the pier, an Oceania Cruises staff member collects passports at the check-in facility and issues Oceania WorldCards to all guests. This card serves as the stateroom key, onboard charge card, and ID required to embark and disembark the ship. After check-in, guests will proceed directly to the ship's gangway where they are required to show the Oceania WorldCard to the security officer.

RECEPTION

Reception is open 24 hours a day. Located on Deck 4, services include:

- General information
- Money matters
- Passports
- Oceania WorldCard account matters
- Business-related services
- Lost and found
- Lost luggage
- Guest message services
- Faxes (incoming and outgoing)

SAFETY ONBOARD

The ship is equipped with advanced technology that complies with the International Maritime Safety regulations. There are automatic sprinklers, smoke and fire detection, and fire alarm systems. All staff undergoes weekly training that includes emergency drills, abandon ship drills, and fire drills. The evacuation plan is posted on the back of each stateroom door and includes the location of the Muster Station specific to each stateroom. Orange life jackets are stored in the closet in each stateroom (one per person). A mandatory lifeboat drill will take place within 24 hours of departure and must be attended by all guests and crew. The purpose of the drill is familiarization with routine safety procedures such as how to use a life jacket and where to find muster stations and lifeboats.

SECURITY

Security is of highest priority and guests should make note of the following:

- After receiving their luggage, guests should ensure all is in good order.
- The gangway is always supervised by an Oceania Cruises security officer. When guests proceed ashore, they must carry their Oceania WorldCard stateroom key, which must be shown upon leaving and returning to the ship.
- As a precaution, security officers may search packages, beach bags, and handbags when guests return from port visits.
- Oceania Cruises' policy is that no visitors are allowed aboard.

- A universal practice at all hotels and ships should be observed: no valuables or money should be left unattended and a stateroom safe should be used.

SHORE EXCURSIONS

Optional shore excursions will be available for purchase approximately eight months prior to the sailing date. Shore excursions are arranged by Oceania Cruises and operated in the various ports of call by local tourist service companies contracted by the cruise line; they are not under the control of Go Next. Gratuities for a job well done are customary and influenced by the level of service rendered. Please note that gratuities for local/city guides and drivers are not included in the price of the excursion. Guidelines for tipping are the same as noted in the Gratuities section of this manual.

All shore excursions and instructions from the guides are conducted in English.

Guests who have purchased shore excursions prior to the cruise will have their tour tickets delivered to their staterooms on the first evening of the cruise.

Due to obligations with shoreside excursion operators, shore excursion tickets are non-refundable after the cancellation deadline. After the cancellation deadline, no refunds are given for any unwanted or unused tickets. Any excursions cancelled by the ship or the excursion operators are credited accordingly. Tours may be cancelled if the minimum participant requirement is not met. Tours operate rain or shine.

SMOKING POLICY

There are two designated smoking areas on the ship. Both areas are comfortably furnished and conveniently located near the food and beverage service area. For the safety and security of all guests and crew, smoking is forbidden in all staterooms and suites, on verandas, or in any areas of the ship other than those that are officially designated smoking areas. Guests who choose to disregard this policy will be disembarked at the next port of call and may also be subject to monetary penalties imposed to cover the costs associated with any damage caused or cleaning required.

TENDERS

Various ports may require the ship to anchor offshore. At these ports, the ship's tenders will transfer guests ashore. Each ship is equipped with ten tenders. One should refer to the Currents daily newsletter for further details when tendering is required.

DINNER RESERVATIONS

Reservations for Red Ginger and Tuscan Steak are required. All guests occupying Stateroom-level accommodations will have the opportunity to reserve one dining experience in each restaurant, and Concierge Level and Suite guests will have the opportunity to reserve two dining experiences in each restaurant (sailings over 15 nights will be afforded additional guaranteed dining experiences in each restaurant). For additional dining reservations during the voyage, guests can check the availability with the dining reservations staff. (Seven-night sailings are guaranteed one dining experience in each specialty restaurant regardless of stateroom category.)

Special dietary requests must be submitted to Go Next in writing at least 90 days prior to departure. Every attempt will be made to accommodate those requests.

Oceania Cruises' online dining reservation system enables guests to reserve times and dates for dining in the specialty restaurants up to seven days prior to embarkation. A confirmation card will be posted on the guest's stateroom door the day of the dining reservation. It is suggested guests make their reservations prior to embarkation as space is limited and is first come, first served. Alcoholic beverages are an additional charge. Restaurant hours are listed each day in the Currents daily newsletter.

When to make your reservations:

- The booking must be paid in full.
- Oceania Cruises' online dining reservation system closes 7 days prior to embarkation date.
- Guests in Owner's and Vista Suites: reservations can be made on the date final payment is due, if it has been received. Reservations will be accepted until 7 days prior to sailing. This window of time varies between 90 and 150 days, depending on the length of sailing.
- Guests in Penthouse Suites can make reservations 75 days to 7 days prior to embarkation date.
- Guests in A-Level Concierge Staterooms can make reservations 60 days to 7 days prior to embarkation date.
- Guests in G through B Staterooms can make reservations 45 days to 7 days prior to embarkation date.

The library offers a wide variety of books, including the latest New York Times bestsellers, reference materials, and magazines. All books and magazines should be returned to the library prior to disembarkation.

INTERNET SERVICE

Internet and email access is available 24 hours a day. You can use the Internet Center Computer Room or use a wireless laptop. Wireless service is available in your stateroom and in all public areas.

Oceania@Sea offers a “per minute” option and discounted packages for frequent users. The starting rate with no package is $.95 per minute (subject to change). An email account will be set up for each guest on the ship; if they have mail, they will find their name posted on the TV screen located outside the Internet center. A $3.95 fee (subject to change) will apply to all outbound emails. Please note that satellite internet service is significantly slower and may depend on reception in various areas. People with the OLife package will have free internet service.

KEYS

The Oceania WorldCard serves as boarding card, stateroom door key, and the onboard charge card. For security purposes, the stateroom number is not printed on the card.

LIFE JACKETS

Life jackets are located inside the closet in every stateroom—one per occupant. During the mandatory lifeboat drill, guests receive detailed instructions on proper usage.

LUGGAGE STORAGE

Luggage is delivered directly to every stateroom at least one hour prior to the ship’s departure. Once unpacked, luggage may be stored under the bed. If it does not fit under the bed, your stateroom steward/stewardess will remove it for storage elsewhere on the ship and return it on the last evening of the cruise.

MINIBAR

All suites and staterooms all feature a refrigerated minibar stocked with a variety of complimentary soft drinks. Owner’s and Vista Suites have a complimentary in-suite bar setup with six full-size bottles of premium spirits and wines from the Oceania Cruises beverage menu.

POOL DECK AND PATIO/DECK GAMES

The Pool Deck on Deck 9 is the focal point for all outdoor activities and features a heated saltwater swimming pool, two freshwater whirlpools, and a beautiful teak lido deck. Complimentary Balinese day beds, chaise lounges, and extra-large towels are provided for use and enjoyment of all guests on board and are available on a first-come, first-served basis. A variety of deck games, including shuffleboard and table tennis, are available on the Pool Deck.

ROOM SERVICE

Room service is available 24 hours a day. Continental breakfast is available through room service from 6:30AM to 10:30AM daily. Order forms in the stateroom should be filled in and placed in the message holder outside the stateroom door before 11:00PM. Room service is not available on the morning of disembarkation.

STATEROOM SAFE

All staterooms are equipped with a personal safe. It is recommended not to leave valuables, jewelry, or money unsecured in staterooms. Although every effort is made to safeguard staterooms, neither Oceania Cruises nor Go Next will accept any responsibility for the loss or damage of any valuables.

TELECOMMUNICATION

Oceania Cruises offers Wireless Maritime Services (WMS) voice and data services for all GSM mobile phones and GPRS devices, like Blackberry®, when the ship is at sea. Guests can make and receive phone calls, send and receive text messages, and use other data when the ship is at sea. Guests will be billed by their mobile phone providers, and calls or messages will appear as roaming charges on their bill. Please consult wireless service providers for detailed rates and service zones. Each stateroom is equipped with a telephone able to make ship-to-shore calls to anywhere in the world. Calls are approximately $4.95 per minute. Faxes can be sent by contacting the Reception desk.

TELEPHONE / CELL PHONES

To call another stateroom, guests can dial the four-digit stateroom number. There are instructions next to the telephone in the staterooms on how to make private, high-quality ship-to-shore calls. All charges are billed to the Oceania WorldCard account. Guests should note that this is a satellite service and therefore higher charges apply. The same concern applies to using private cell phones: roaming and satellite charges vary from one server to the next and all guests should be aware of this.

TELEVISION / MUSIC

Each room is equipped with a flat-screen television. A wide array of programming includes first-run movies, CNN, FOX, National Geographic, A&E, History Channel, DMX Music channels, as well as channels dedicated to destination and shore excursion information, onboard activities, and a host of enrichment topics. The Reception desk also offers an extensive list of movies that can be checked out and played on the DVD player in each room.
