ADVENTURES IN ARCHAEOLOGY

As the leading archaeological tour operator, Andante Travels offers memorable explorations of the ancient world led by expert Guide Lecturers. Our guides include renowned academics, best-selling authors, seasoned excavators and popular broadcasters alike, and their inimitable knowledge brings the sites visited to life in ways that an independently organized trip simply can not.

Over the last 38 years, we have taken groups of curious guests to destinations both iconic and lesser-known, from the legendary site of Pompeii in Italy to the Roman remains that can be found in the UNESCO-listed Algerian town of Timgad.

Our multi-award-winning itineraries are carefully crafted by our experienced in-house team alongside our experts, and they are often imitated but never matched. The relationships our Guide Lecturers have with the sites and their local custodians means that we know the best way to visit them, exploring parts often missed by the mainstream visitor and arranging special access encounters where possible.

Guests can look forward to touring as part of a small group, giving them the chance to get to know their fellow travellers personally. They can also anticipate stays at hand-picked, comfortable hotels chosen for their proximity to sites. Travelers are looked after around the clock with staff on hand to help both before and after they depart. What's more, most aspects of the tour are included, from tips throughout to the majority of meals and all entry to all sites on the schedule. We hope to welcome you soon.
