April 24: Jane Austen's House Museum & Chawton House

For our first visit, we head to Jane Austen's House Museum, where she spent the last eight years of her life. It was in this country cottage where Austen completed the majority of her mature writing, including the timeless Pride and Prejudice. The museum tells the story of the author and her family through a host of treasures, including first editions of Austen's books, jewellery and furniture.

We continue to Chawton House, an Elizabethan manor house that once belonged to Jane Austen's brother, Edward Austen Knight. It now accommodates a unique library of titles focusing on women's contributions to English literature from 1600 to 1830. We find out more during our guided tour, preceded by lunch.

Later, we check into our overnight hotel, the Devon Hotel in Exeter.

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner

West Bay

April 25: Broadchurch Country, Jurassic Coast (West Bay & Lyme Regis) & A la Ronde

Today we head down to Broadchurch Country to take in some of the highlights of the Jurassic Coast. We start with the scenic marvel of West Bay, filming location for the popular TV series Broadchurch, where the striking sand-hued cliffs are instantly recognizable. Next stop is Branscombe, a quaint village of thatched houses, a renovated water mill, an Old Bakery tea room and a working forge, restored by the National Trust. We continue to the charming seaside town and fishing port of Lyme Regis, home to Britain's most famous paleontologist, Mary Anning, and the site where she made many of her findings. This 'Pearl of Dorset' is nestled in an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty on the Jurassic Coast and features the Cobb, an iconic jetty which starred in the five-time Oscar-nominated movie, The French Lieutenant's Woman.

Lanhydrock

We then step into another world at A la Ronde, a unique 16-sided house built at the request of two spinster cousins in the 18th century. This eccentric house, with it's quirky diamond-shaped windows and fascinating interior decoration, is crammed full of extraordinary artifacts, curiosities and mementoes from the cousins' grand European tour.

This evening, we check into the special Bovey Castle Hotel, where we stay for the next two nights.

Meals: Breakfast, Dinner

April 26: Knightshayes & Killerton

We begin our day with a visit to Knightshayes, one of England's finest Victorian Gothic houses by eccentric designer William Burges. Full of quirks and curiosities, the mansion boasts intricate carvings and impressive ceilings plus a medieval Great Hall with minstrels' gallery. The garden is also a delight to explore with over 1,200 plant species unique to Knightshayes, representing one of the most varied collections of the National Trust.

Knightshayes

Home to the Acland family until 1944, our next stop of Killerton is a fine 18th-century house surrounded by a glorious landscape garden and parkland. Here we find out more about the history of the house and its vast 6,400 estate as well as the captivating story of how Sir Richard Acland's strong political beliefs led him to give up the family home and inheritance to the National Trust. Killerton also boasts the largest fashion collection cared for by the National Trust, with over 20,000 pieces of clothing, accessories and objects.

Meals: Breakfast, Dinner

April 27: Jamaica Inn & Lanhydrock

Leaving Dartmoor National Park, we drive through the breathtaking Bodmin Moor to Jamaica Inn, Cornwall's most famous smuggling inn, located high up on this wildly rugged moor. Steeped in legend, this historic coaching house was made famous by Daphne du Maurier's tale of smugglers, rogues and pirates and has been welcoming travellers for nearly 300 years. A light lunch is included here.

Jamaica Inn

We continue to Lanhydrock, one of the most fascinating and complete late 19th-century houses in England. Bursting with period atmosphere and with extensive servants' quarters, we discover two sides of Victorian life and admire the extensive gardens, with their beautiful herbaceous borders and a formal parterre.

Later, we check into the Headland Hotel in Newquay, where we stay for the next five nights.

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner

April 28: Godolphin & St Michael's Mount

This morning, we take a guided tour of Godolphin, which played a pivotal role in Cornwall's mining history and its transformation of life in Britain. While evidence of human existence on this site dates back to the Bronze Age, the land was acquired in the 12th century by the rising powerful Godolgun family, who proceeded to build a moated house here. With the exploding popularity of tin mining in the area, the family's wealth greatly increased during the Tudor period and beyond. Today, Godolphin is recognised as a Cornwall and West Devon mining landscape UNESCO World Heritage Site and showcases a range of fascinating features, including a medieval garden, Piggery tea room, Grade II listed farm buildings and a Grade I listed house, all surrounded by 500 acres of stunning rural countryside.

A delightful afternoon tea awaits at St Michael's Mount, one of the most iconic of Cornwall's sights and connected to the mainland by a cobbled causeway. The little sister of Brittany's Mont St Michel, this craggy island features a medieval castle which has been home to the St Aubyn family since the 17th century, a harbor and village with a close-knit island community. Depending on tide times, we either enjoy a boat ride to and from the island or a 15-minute walk along the ancient cobbled walkway.

Meals: Breakfast, Afternoon Tea, Dinner

April 29: Tresco Abbey Garden

We take a helicopter ride across to Tresco, the second largest of the Isles of Scilly. Here we explore the glorious Tresco Abbey Garden, a horticultural paradise where some 20,000 exotic species from 80 countries thrive in the sub-tropical climate. Originally established as a private garden in the 19th century by island owner Augustus Smith, the diversity of plant life found within the garden is as extraordinary as it is unique.

If the weather isn't on our side, we enjoy lunch and a wander around at the Eden Project, built into the Cornish countryside and often described as the Eighth Wonder of the World. With thousands of species of plants to see both indoors and out and a wealth of activities taking place every day, there is always something new to set our eyes on. The aerial walkway affords lovely views over the Rainforest Biome, the largest rainforest in captivity.

Meals: Breakfast

Pencarrow House

April 30: St Ives, Barbara Hepworth Museum & Sculpture Garden & Roswarne House

Today we see why artists have long been drawn to Cornwall. We begin with the holiday town of St Ives, the perfect place to stroll along one of the sandy beaches, watch the fishermen launch their boats from the harbor, wander through the maze of cobbled streets and admire the pretty cottages. Here take in the artwork on display at the Cornwall branch of the Tate Gallery, which showcases stunning pieces from artists that have attracted international attention.

We then visit the nearby Barbara Hepworth Museum & Sculpture Garden, the former home and studio of the eminent British sculptor. Opened in 1976 by Hepworth's family, it contains the largest collection of her works and a stunning garden with sculptures placed by the artist herself, decades ago. As we wander and feel the sea breeze, it's easy to see why 'finding Trewyn Studio was a sort of magic...here was a studio, a yard and garden where I could work in open air and space.'

Our next stop is Roswarne House, once an ancient farmhouse and extended in 1810 by landed gentry. Nestled in six acres of picturesque parkland, the property has now returned to its former glory, after an extensive restoration project, and highlights include a delightful Orangery, Ballroom, Library and Drawing Room. We find out more when we meet the current owner, and also enjoy some refreshments here.

Meals: Breakfast, Dinner

May 1: Port Isaac, Pencarrow House & Gardens, Prideux Place & Padstow

Any travelers who have seen the British TV series Doc Martin or the Fisherman's Friends movies will no doubt recognise charming Port Isaac. We visit various filming locations in the small fishing village, which boasts winding streets lined with whitewashed cottages and a quaint harbor with clear waters (when the tide is in!), sheltered by rolling verdant scenery. Don't miss the lovely pasty shop here – it's a must when in Cornwall! A warm Cornish welcome awaits at Pencarrow House, nestled on the edge of Bodmin Moor and the family home of the Molesworth-St Aubyns for almost 500 years. Our guided tour uncovers the secrets of this magnificent house, along with hidden passageways, glorious portraits, fine porcelain and marble busts sporting a variety of hats as per the wishes of the Lady of the Manor. There is plenty to explore outside too, from a colourful Italian garden and wild woodlands to walking routes, an Iron Age hill fort and a grotto, believed to have once been a secret meeting place.

We continue with a guided tour of Prideaux Place on the north coast, located close to Padstow and the home to fourteen generations of the Prideaux-Brunes. Completed in 1592, this Elizabethan manor house has changed little over the last four centuries and the magnificent rooms offer a captivating slice of history and plenty of unique treasures, including Italian paintings, elegant antiques, an ever-growing collection of teddy bears and England's oldest cast iron canon in the armoury. The author of Poldark, Winston Graham, became a great friend of the family and regularly visited the house. Part of the estate was used for dramatic clifftop scenes in the 2015 BBC adaptation of the popular novel. Outside, the grounds are gradually being restored to their former glory with an 80-tree lime avenue and a remodelling of the Victorian formal garden.

For an early dinner we head to the charming port resort of Padstow, famous for its connection to chef Rick Stein and pretty harbor.

Meals: Breakfast, Dinner

Port Isaac

May 2: Charlestown & Plymouth

After checking out of the hotel, we enjoy some time in Charlestown, an unspoiled example of a late Georgian working port, constructed in response to the growth of the local mining industry. Other businesses were established such as pilchard curing and ship building, with many attractive period properties built up in the village. Charlestown is also a popular filming location with credits including the BBC's hugely successful Poldark TV series, and there are often square rigger ships in the harbor.

We travel to Plymouth, a handsome city with a wonderful waterfront that boasts the historic Sutton Harbor and Barbican, a vibrant place of cobbled streets and narrow lanes. Lunch is served at Rockfish, which specialises in local, fresh fish on the harborfront, before we take a look at the famous Mayflower Steps. Flanked by British and American flags, this spot marks the final departure point of the pilgrims who journeyed to the New World, reaching America after a gruelling 10 weeks at sea.

Burgh Island Hotel

Imagine Christie reading her latest mystery to her guests.

Later we check into the Lincombe Hall Hotel, where we stay for the next two nights.

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner

May 3: Greenway, Burgh Island Hotel & Agatha Christie Walk

After a journey on the foot ferry we arrive at Greenway, the much-loved holiday home of noted author Agatha Christie and her family. Nestled on the side of the River Dart and surrounded by a picturesque woodland garden, this atmospheric house is set in the 1950s and contains many of the family's collections. As you wander through the atmospheric rooms, it is easy to imagine Christie reading her latest mystery novel to her guests here.

Hardy's Cottage

©National Trust Images/Chris Lacey

We then take a special trip to the beautiful Art Deco Burgh Island Hotel, accessed by a unique sea tractor from Bigbury on Sea Beach. Built in 1929 and extended in 1932, the hotel hosted notable guests, such as Winston Churchill, Josephine Baker, Edward VIII and Wallis Simpson. Now restored to its 1930s era glamour, you can just visualize Agatha Christie writing two novels here (Evil Under the Sun and And Then There Were None), with the glitz of the hotel appealing to her as a literary setting.

©National Trust Images/Neil Gairing

Later, we return to Torquay, not only famous for its continental harbor and palm-tree lined promenade, but also as the birthplace of The Queen of Crime. Did you know that this is where Agatha Christie learned about poisons while working as a pharmacist? We take a walking tour of the Agatha Christie Mile and tick off the seafront locations connected to her life and works.

Meals: Breakfast, Afternoon Tea, Dinner

May 4: Hardy's Cottage, Max Gate & Clouds Hill

Leaving Cornwall, we travel to Thomas Hardy's birthplace, Hardy's Cottage. Surrounded by a delightful cottage garden, this is where he wrote Far From the Madding Crowd.

We continue to the outskirts of Dorchester and the atmospheric Victorian house Max Gate, designed by Hardy in 1885 and where he lived until his death in 1928. Hardy wrote some of his most famous novels here including Tess of the d'Urbervilles and Jude the Obscure.

For our final visit we head to Clouds Hill, the idyllic retreat of writer, army officer, archaeologist and friend of Thomas Hardy, T.E. Lawrence, perhaps better known as Lawrence of Arabia. Designed and furnished to his personal taste, the fascinating rooms have largely been unchanged since Lawrence lived, wrote, read and entertained guests here. Other highlights include his shed where he kept his beloved motorcycles, the lovely views from the hill that overlooks the cottage and the little Greek inscription above the front door: 'why worry?'

Later, we check into the Castle Hotel in Windsor, where we enjoy a farewell dinner together.

We start the day at Chatsworth House, where we’re treated to a guided tour. October 2: Waddesdon Manor & Cheeseworks

We make our way to Waddesdon Manor. Built by Baron Ferdinand de Rothschild in the 1870s, the French-inspired château was lavishly designed to entertain guests and showcase his enthusiastic interest in art. Outside is a fine example of late Victorian gardens, featuring a Rococo-style aviary, a Parterre and sculptures. We have time to explore the interiors and are treated to a tour, a private Rothschild Wine Cellar experience and lunch at the house.

Next is a visit to Cheeseworks Cheltenham, one of Britain's finest cheesemongers, for an indulgent evening sampling a spectacular selection of fine wines and speciality cheese. We return to our hotel later for our evening meal.

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner

Highgrove Gardens

October 3: Highgrove & Berkeley Castle

Today we are treated to a guided tour of Highgrove Gardens, the organic gardens of Their Majesties. Over 30 years in the making, Highgrove has one of the most creatively inspired and innovative gardens in the country and embodies The King's environmental philosophy 'it is better to work with nature than against it'. Each area has its own purpose and includes the Kitchen Garden, the stunning Wildflower Meadow and a National Collection of Beech trees.

We enjoy lunch at Highgrove before moving on to Berkeley Castle, ordered by Henry II to defend the Severn estuary and the Welsh border and a near complete medieval survival. Reigning monarch Edward II was sent to the castle as a prisoner after his wife Isabella and her lover Roger Mortimer usurped his power, and we see the room where he is supposedly murdered in 1327. The castle is also the oldest building in the country to be inhabited by the same family who built it.

We stop at a traditional English pub to enjoy a delicious fish and chips supper before returning to our hotel for the evening.

Highclere Castle

October 4: The Firs, Weston's Cider Brewery & Eastnor Castle

We visit The Firs, a small country cottage and childhood home of one of the country's greatest composers, Edward Elgar. The quaint spa town is nestled in an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty and it's easy to see why walking and cycling through the beautiful surroundings inspired Elgar's music.

Next, we visit Weston's Cider Brewery, founded in 1880 by Henry Weston and still independently owned by the family. On our guided tour, we learn about the traditional techniques used and the passion for sustainability when producing premium homegrown cider. Afterward, we take time for a delicious sandwich and cider lunch at The Scrumpy House restaurant here.

We then make our way to Eastnor, a dramatic fairytale castle at the foot of the Malvern Hills surrounded by a beautiful deer park, arboretum and lake, boasting magnificent views of the rolling Herefordshire countryside. The imposing fortress continues to be inhabited by the first Earl's descendants; the Hervey-Bathurst family.

On the way back to our hotel, we stop for dinner in Longhope at a traditional country pub, the Farmers Boy Inn, for one of their special pies.

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner

Broughton Castle

October 5: Broughton Castle, Hook Norton & Daylesford

Predominantly built in the early 14th century, Broughton Castle is a stunning moated manor house, set in idyllic parkland. The manor has been a hive for political exchanges and royal stays throughout the centuries, serving as a meeting place for leading parliamentary opponents of Charles I. James I occupied the king's chamber in the early 15th century, whilst recent residents include current monarch King Charles III. We have the chance to try some delicious Banbury cakes, a traditional treat.

We then head to the picturesque village of Hook Norton to visit its brewery, housed within a five-storey Victorian tower. Our tour takes us through the intricate brewing process, and we finish with a tasting session at the cellar bar.

Later, we visit Daylesford farm shop in the quaint Moreton-in-Marsh, with its award-winning artisan products. We have our evening meal at one of Daylesford's restaurants and indulge in their delicious Sunday roast.

Meals: Breakfast, Dinner

October 6: Chavenage & Dorney Court

After breakfast, we make our way to Chavenage House, a unique 16th-century family home. With a hands-on approach to opening the doors of their wonderful home, members of the Lowsley-Williams family offer truly memorable tours of Chavenage, featuring the property's history, engaging personal family stories, humorous anecdotes and myths of the Chavenage curse. We explore the lavish rooms, discover the secrets of the room where Cromwell stayed during the Civil War and spot the famous filming locations of BBC's Poldark.

We then journey to Dorney Court, one of England's finest Tudor manor houses and home of the Palmer family for more than 450 years. We are treated to a guided connoisseur tour and learn more about the family portraits and varied collections of art that tell a visual tale of everyone who has lived here.

Later, we check back into the Macdonald Windsor Hotel, where we enjoy a farewell dinner together.

December 10: Chartwell House & Ightham Mote

Today we first visit Chartwell, Sir Winston Churchill's beloved home from 1924 until the time of his death. The house is still home to many of the great statesman's personal and political mementos, including an amazing collection of gifts he received from other world leaders. Amongst these notable possessions are magical touches of the season, such as themed trees and gorgeous garlands transforming the historic house into a cosy Christmas spectacle.

Ightham Mote

We take our leave of the historic country house and head to our second National Trust property of the day, a medieval moated manor house, once described by historian David Starkey as 'the most beautiful and the most interesting of English country houses'. Called Ightham Mote, the name is derived from the Saxon name, Ehta, and 'mote' reflects the residence's location being surrounded by an actual fairytale moat. Built nearly 700 years ago, atmospheric Ightham has been home to medieval knights, courtiers to Henry VIII and Victorian high society. Inside we are treated to a Tudor Christmas scene with music, lights and seasonal scents, all inspired by the history of the property.

December 11: Canterbury Cathedral & Canterbury Cathedral Lodge

We spend the day in historical Canterbury, where we start with a private guided tour of Canterbury Cathedral, the oldest cathedral in England, dating back to Norman times. The cathedral is a wonder of awe-inspiring architecture, featuring a sweeping Gothic nave and cavernous crypt. In 1170, Archbishop Thomas Becket was murdered in the cathedral and ever since, it has been a site of Christian pilgrimage. The cathedral contains one of England's largest collections of early medieval stained glass and it has recently been discovered that these windows may date as far back as the mid-1100s, making them some of the oldest examples in the world. With Christmas trees and a life-size nativity scene, the cathedral offers a magical atmosphere during the festive season.

Next, we visit Cathedral Lodge, a unique hotel set within the grounds of Canterbury Cathedral, where we enjoy a delicious afternoon tea and an insightful talk about the great Charles Dickens from a guest speaker. There is no better Christmastime setting than in the lodge, sitting by an open fire, listening to tales of A Christmas Carol and other Dickens classics.

Meals: Breakfast, Afternoon Tea

Hever Castle

December 12: Penshurst Place & Hever Castle

We spend the morning at Penshurst Place, a medieval manor house surrounded by stunning formal walled gardens and ancient parkland. Previously used as a hunting lodge by Henry VIII, it has been owned by the Sidney family since 1552 and is still a much-loved family home. We enjoy a behind-the-scenes guided tour of the house which still displays many of its original medieval and Tudor features, a magnificent Great Hall and State Rooms, beautifully decorated for the Christmas season.

In the afternoon we head to Hever Castle, the childhood home of Henry VIII's second wife, Anne Boleyn, where we enjoy lunch. Dating back to the late 13th century, this double-moated castle is home to various historic artifacts including Tudor portraits and furniture, as well as two prayer books inscribed by Anne Boleyn. The castle was lavishly restored by American millionaire, William Waldorf Astor, in the early 20th century. Take the time to admire the castle's interior, beautifully decorated for the festive season with fairy lights, welcoming log fires and twinkling Christmas trees.

Later, in the evening, we enjoy an after-dinner talk by a guest speaker at the hotel.

December 13: Bodiam Castle & Bateman's

This morning we visit Bodiam Castle, one of Britain's most picturesque and romantic ancient fortifications. This archetypal 14th-century moated castle with a ruined interior gives us a glimpse of medieval splendour and boasts an original wooden portcullis, spiral staircases, tower rooms and battlements. As we take in the enchanting decorations, just imagine medieval revellers enjoying a cup of Wassail, a festive delight made of mulled ale, curdled cream, roasted apples, eggs and spices.

Afterward we head to Bateman's, a 17th-century house which so enchanted Rudyard Kipling when he discovered it, that he made it his home in 1902. With its stone-mullioned windows and Sussex oak beams, it's a lovely retreat that has been left virtually untouched since Kipling's tenure here. During our visit, the ground floor is decorated for a Kipling family Christmas with a roaring fire, a traditionally decorated tree and a table set for dinner, all adding to the warming, festive feel of an Edwardian home at Christmas.

We complete our day with a journey on the Kent & Sussex Steam Train, the perfect way to relax and unwind in a first-class carriage, watching the scenic Kent countryside pass by to the sounds of Christmas carols in the background.

December 14: Leeds Castle & Royal Albert Hall

After breakfast, we check out of the Ashdown Park Hotel and make our way to the magnificent Leeds Castle, a quintessential moated castle set in 500 acres of glorious parkland. Dating back to the 12th century, it has been a Norman stronghold, the royal residence of six medieval queens and was once home to Henry VIII and his first wife, Catherine of Aragon. Latterly, it became an elegant early 20th-century retreat for the influential and the famous. Our visit gives us a chance to explore the castle's impressive state rooms which are lavishly decorated for Christmas.

Later, we enjoy a highlight of our tour, Christmas Carols at the Royal Albert Hall. This iconic venue hosts some of Britain's most famous concerts including BBC Proms and the Royal Variety Performance. A trip to the world-famous venue is always a magical experience, but there is something extra special about this annual Christmas concert, offering the perfect chance to sing along to much-loved carols and enjoy a truly unique shared festive experience.

After the performance, we drive back to the hotel via Oxford and Regent Street to see the famous London Christmas lights. At the Windsor Castle Hotel, we toast the festive season with a farewell dinner.
