A Wonderful Opportunity to Explore & Experience...

Dear National Trust Traveler,

I am pleased to share our 2026 tour program produced in partnership with Albion Journeys, featuring a host of inspiring itineraries to a range of captivating places and spaces. These exclusive tours allow you to step into different periods of British history and discover the vast cultural and natural heritage of Great Britain first-hand, including many of the impressive estates owned by the National Trust for England, Wales and Northern Ireland and the National Trust for Scotland.

Come along and immerse yourself in the hidden wonders of these nations with behind-the-scenes tours, after-dinner talks and insights from various property owners themselves, letting you delve deeper into living examples of Britain's past. If these historic walls could talk, they would tell fascinating tales of power, conflict, family drama, royal visits and more, and we are excited to share it all with you.

There are several favourites returning, featuring two enchanting festive tours, the RHS Chelsea Flower Show on member's day, exclusive access to regal retreats such as Sandringham and a magical world of inspiration in England's south-west corner.

Indeed, those with a keen interest in literature won't be disappointed by our new offerings for 2026. On Literary Legends of the Lake District, discover remarkable collections with an expert curator at William Wordsworth's Dove Cottage ('the loveliest spot that man hath ever found'), see how Beatrix Potter's charming Hill Top inspired some of the most enchanting little characters and follow in Arthur Ransome's footsteps aboard the National Trust-owned Steam Yacht Gondola across Coniston Water, the delightful inspiration for Swallows and Amazons. Meanwhile fans of the world's greatest playwright can trace his absorbing life story on Shakespeare, the Cotswolds & the Welsh Marches, from his beginnings in Stratford-upon-Avon to London's riverside Globe Theater.

Elsewhere, we are pleased to introduce new tours to every corner of Britain, celebrating rich Welsh heritage, Scotland's romantic castles, art and architecture, the breathtaking vistas of mythical Southern Ireland plus Kent's beautiful gardens and fairytale fortresses. On the latter tour, look out for a special visit to the Royal Oak Foundation Conservation Studio – the first of its kind in the National Trust, allowing visitors the unique opportunity to watch conservators at work on objects from collections across the Trust.

Yet by joining any one of our fascinating trips, you will have the unique opportunity to see the results of the important work taken on by our counterparts the National Trust of England, Wales and Northern Ireland in preserving and protecting their nations' treasures.

Whichever you choose, we look forward to seeing you next year.

performed by the award-winning Trinity Labin Choir. It's a lovely setting to get into the holiday spirit, with its richly decorated ceiling, beautiful neo-classical interiors and exquisite altarpiece painted by Benjamin West. After the concert, enjoy some mulled wine and a mince pie before exploring the Painted Hall, known as 'Britain's Sistine Chapel', illuminated by Peter Walker's special light art installation.

From here, we travel to the Ashdown Park Hotel & Country Club, where we stay for the next five nights.

December 8: Chartwell House & Ightham Mote

Today we visit Chartwell, Sir Winston Churchill's beloved home from 1924 until his death. The house is still home to many of the great statesman's personal and political mementos, including gifts he received from other world leaders, with themed trees and gorgeous garlands transforming the historic house into a cozy Christmas spectacle.

Our second National Trust property of the day is Ightham Mote, a medieval moated manor house once described by historian David Starkey as 'the most beautiful and the most interesting of English country houses'. Built nearly 700 years ago, atmospheric Ightham has been home to medieval knights, courtiers to Henry VIII and Victorian High Society. Inside we are treated to a Christmas scene with music, lights and seasonal scents, all inspired by the history of the property.

December 9: Canterbury Cathedral & Canterbury Cathedral Lodge

We spend the day in historic Canterbury, beginning with a guided tour of Canterbury Cathedral, the oldest cathedral in England. In 1170, Archbishop Thomas Becket was murdered in the cathedral and ever since, it has been a site of Christian pilgrimage. The cathedral contains one of England's largest collections of early medieval stained glass and it has recently been discovered that these windows may date as far back as the mid-1100s, making them some of the oldest examples in the world. With Christmas trees and a life-size nativity scene, the cathedral offers a magical atmosphere during the festive season.

Ightham Mote

After some time at leisure to discover beautiful Canterbury itself, we visit Cathedral Lodge, a unique hotel set within the grounds of Canterbury Cathedral, where we enjoy a delicious afternoon tea and an insightful talk about the great Charles Dickens from a guest speaker.

Meals: Breakfast, Afternoon Tea, Dinner

December 10: Penshurst Place & Hever Castle

We spend the morning at the medieval manor house of Penshurst Place. Previously used as a hunting lodge by Henry VIII, it has been owned by the Sidney family since 1552 and is still a much-loved family home. We are treated to a private behind-the-scenes guided tour of the house, with its magnificent Great Hall and State Rooms, beautifully decorated for the Christmas season.

In the afternoon we head to Hever Castle, the childhood home of Henry VIII's second wife, Anne Boleyn, where we enjoy lunch. Dating back to the late 13th century, this double-moated castle is home to various historic artifacts, including Tudor portraits and furniture, as well as two prayer books inscribed by Anne Boleyn. The castle was lavishly restored by American millionaire, William Waldorf Astor, in the early 20th century, and is a real delight to visit at this time of year.

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch

December 11: Bateman's, Bodiam Castle & the Kent & East Sussex Railway

This morning, we visit Bateman's, a 17th-century house which so enchanted Rudyard Kipling when he discovered it, that he made it his home in 1902. With its stone-mullioned windows and Sussex oak beams, it's a lovely retreat that has been left virtually untouched since Kipling's tenure here. During our visit, the ground floor is decorated for a Kipling family Christmas with a roaring fire, a traditionally decorated tree and a table set for dinner, all adding to the warming, festive feel of an Edwardian home at Christmas.

Afterward we head to Bodiam Castle, one of Britain's most picturesque and romantic ancient fortifications. This archetypal 14th-century moated castle with a ruined interior gives us a glimpse of medieval splendour and boasts an original wooden portcullis, spiral staircases, tower rooms and battlements. As we take in the enchanting decorations, just imagine medieval revellers enjoying a cup of Wassail, a festive delight made of mulled ale, curdled cream, roasted apples, eggs and spices.

We complete our day with a festive journey on the Kent & East Sussex Railway, the perfect way to watch the scenic Kent countryside pass by to the sounds of Christmas carols in the background.

We learn more during our private guided tour while exploring the castle's impressive state rooms, which are lavishly decorated for Christmas. A lovely lunch concludes our time here.

We then visit one of the National Trust's most popular properties, Polesden Lacey, described as a 'delicious house' by the Queen Mother on her honeymoon there. This countryside retreat is most closely connected to Dame Margaret Greville, who entertained royalty and the celebrities of her time with lavish parties at the manor. During the magical festive period, the house is illuminated by twinkling trees, pretty decorations and immersive scenes while outside, the views out across the rolling Surrey Hills are beautiful.
